For the businessman that travels via car quite a bit, it is impossible to stay in tune with the different local stations. Frankly this is a service needed to make travel more safe for the public at large. It is a service I am willing and continue to pay for and as such should be allowed. I am concerned by the level of influence exerted by the special interest groups on law making and this is just another example of how the national groups can serve and make life better by allowing more content on XM radio.
